Dear Parents,

Warm Greetings!!

We are taking this opportunity to write to you as we complete nearly seven weeks of our journey in this new learning environment which most definitely would not have been possible without your support and cooperation. If the teaching fraternity was exposed to continuously evolving in teaching learning techniques while going online, for you all also the shift was enormous; Working from home, managing the household, being with the children during online classes and so on. We all have been managing it all and trying to bring some order in the time of crisis. Even when these times will pass by and life comes back to NORMAL, the new NORMAL will be very different from what it was .

All of us - students, teachers and parents will have to accept that the blended form of learning is here to stay where Technology will assume an integral role without replacing the human touch of the teachers and parents. Also, the present time of the global pandemic demands that our children adapt to social and emotional challenges and it is the elders who have to help them cope with these by helping them manage time constructively.

As we commence with summer vacations, let our children spend these six weeks as opportunity of self learning and Discovery and we humbly solicit your cooperation in aiding this journey.

With regards

*Harpreet Kaur
